The Grand Lodge of Good Templars of this State meets at Scranton on June 4th, two weeks from next Tuesday

A new thirty barrel well was struck on the Benedict tract, church road before yesterday day, and last evening it was producing at that rate.

Ten persons, eight of whom were ladies, were baptized in Convent Creek at Spring bush, on last Sabbath, Rev. M. W. Turk, Pastor of the Christian Church, officiating.

The G. A. R. of Meadville, Corry, Conn., Wilkes-Barre, and Erie, respectively are making extensive preparations for decorating the graves of deceased soldiers, on the 20th of May.

A new Caliberometer, comprising twelve acres of ground at the western extremity of the bay, in Erie, will be dedicated with simple ceremonies on Trinity Sunday, the 2d inst.

Representative Brown of Clinton county, was in town last evening. He is a candidate for renomination, without competition, in his con-try, and will be re-elected by the customary Democratic majority.

The Fourth of July falling on Sunday this year, the 4th is by statute designated a legal holiday. Paper falling due the 4th is therefore due on the 6th, and paper falling due the 4th must be paid on the 6th.

Fred H. Briggus, Esq., formerly connected with the Connecticut Herald, and for years past editor of the Greenville Argus, is announced as a Republican candidate for Assembly in Meriden County.

A fire at Coal City, seven miles below Franklin on Monday, destroyed the druggist's engine houses, &amp;c., attached to the Homestead and Bartlett Wells, several tanks and a large quantity of oil, loss estimated at $6,000. The fire was caused by the upsetting of a derrick lamp filled with crude oil. The engineer, Samuel

Gordon, was so badly burned that his recovery is considered doubtful.

The Allegheny Valley Railroad will soon construct a bridge across the Allegheny River during the coming summer and autumn, thus connecting with the Oil Creek and Allegheny River road.

The survey has been made for the purpose, and the Company is now preparing to push the work to completion. The bridge will be located above the river bridge, starting at a point near the passenger depot, on the Venango City side, and crossing obliquely will gain a point near the old mill on the Old City side, where it will connect with the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Road.

Assembly Candidates

There is likely to be an interesting scrumme-ring for Assembly honors in this county. Meadville is fertile in candidates, and has turned out a new one every week. Here we have Mr. Beatty, who asks for a third term. Mr. Scott was first in the field. Yesterday we announced Mr. Johnson's name. We learn, too, that Harvey Henderson, Esq., is to be "recounted." The next few men are his special backers. Who next? He for the voters of Titusville prepare their ballots they had better wait and see. We are almost planned to reduce our "gate" for an announcement in view of the "whole sale" manner of running for office this summer.

SHERMAN'S THEATRE—is with pleasure notice the return of the fine company to the oil region, after an extended and successful tour through the Western States. Manager Sherry and his company need no praise at our hands, they are each and all well and favorably known by our citizens, who will bear testimony to the superior manner in which their pieces are produced, and entirely free from all semblance to vulgarity or low wit. The old favorites, Mrs.

Carroll, Charles, Ranney and Mulligan are with the company, which plays for the second time this season to night in Franklin. They appear in Titusville shortly, with new scenery, new pieces, &amp;c.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.—The following deeds to city lots in Titusville, sold within the year, have been placed on record at the Recorder's office for the week ending May 15, 1869.

March 18, E. H. Chase to Theodore S. Larson, lot in Titusville for $1,150.

April 1, T. V. Van Henson to C. J. W. Winton, lot in Titusville for $2,250.

A Worcester paper suggests that on decoration day each person shall, in addition to wreaths and garlands, take some live plant or shrub and plant it on a grave, thus erecting a monument to the dead, which will remain fresh and beautiful until the summer is ended.

LOCK BOXES—All persons who want Lock Boxes are requested to leave their orders at the Post Office as soon as possible.

Mr. Johnson a Candidate for Assembly—Hon. H. C. Johnson, of Meadville, is announced as a candidate for the Assembly, at the Primary Meetings, subject to the usages of the Republican party. Mr. Johnson was formerly a member of the Assembly, and the president of one of that House. We are not aware whether he was twice a member or not. We believe he has also held the office of District Attorney of this county, he was the Presidential Elector of this Congressional District last year, and Chairman of the Republican County Committee. Mr. Johnson also received the nomination for Congress in this District last summer. He was taken up when there was a "dead lock" in the Conference, as a "Compromiser man." The nomination of Mr. Coulter four years before, was precedent for such a course, but it did not meet with general approval, and Mr. Johnson withdrew his name, to prevent distract in the party, and in spite of the remonstrances of a very respectable portion of his party. Mr. Johnson is well known to be unequivocally in favor of the new county project, and is perhaps better known at Titusville than almost any other Meadville man, having spent a good deal of time here the last year, while engaged in oil development at Pittsburgh.

GOV. CURTIN AT HARRISBURG

A farewell ovation was tendered to ex Gov. Curtin at Harrisburg on Monday last, and an immense crowd was assembled to do honor to the patriotic statesman. It was introduced to the audience by Mayor Davis, and made an extended address, in the course of which he spoke as follows:

"I am at present the most popular man in Pennsylvania, situated commercially and geographically as you are, you ought to be, and will be, the first in power and wealth of this great Union of States. My friends, we must make it from East to West. It was I who organized the Allegheny board, and made it the chief artery of the Pacific, now a railroad, and I have made it the chief artery of the Atlantic."

Titusville Morning Herald.

All Sorts.

A Paris letter says: "A good deal of sympathy, mingled with a little sarcasm, has been expressed here lately for an American family whose daughter was about to marry a Sicilian prince, the old prince having turned out to be a beggar. The princess was ready to run away, and the principal cost of her flight was already paid. Her parents, however, who sell their daughters for European husbands, are a bit of gomph on well known to us that it was quite safe to had the way into print. It is fortunate for the ambitious mamma on this occasion that the discovery of the impasse can be made before the marriage. The trout may be sold or laid aside till wanted, but how could the wife pretend to be married if the record of her preservation had all been gone through?"

Olive Logan made another speech the other day, in which she said: "I reject the trousers with contempt and scorn. Men cut a sufficiently ridiculous figure in themselves. The trouble is, they don't like their own costume, and are anxious of our taste, jewelry, hats, and dresses. 'Trow us, friends, trousers!' Shame not thy widow garment at me. No so long as we can have our silks, satins, and shawls, we will repudiate your absurdly varnished unwholesome! Look at you still now in coats and caps, and wonder why were your hats so absent, and some of you that you look precisely like monkeys, and I don't wonder that one of your number has written a book showing that animal to be a father of his race." This speech was greeted with roars of laughter and applause.

In Boscawen, N. H., during a thunder storm on the 12th inst., the lightning struck three times near a house, and bored in the ground in more than a dozen places round holes from the size of a finger to that of a man's arm. A telegraph wire was torn in two feet of its length, and just before each heavy report there was snapping like a cap that seemed to come from the wire.

A. T. Stewart, the New York dry goods man, returns an income of $410,000, or $60,000 per week for 1868.

Jacob L. Bowman, who had gained some reputation under the name of "Hans Patrick Le Connor," as a humorous writer in the press of St. Louis, died in a lunatic asylum of that city last week.

It is feared the soup liberty in New England will be a failure this year. From the first to the middle of May is generally the time for the fish to appear on the coast, and year before last, by this time, several vessels had been loaded, with them. Thus far no vessel has been loaded, the few fish caught having been shipped by steamer.

A traveler says that if he were asked to describe the first sensation of a camel ride he would say: "Take a mastic stool, and having worn it up as high as it would go, put it in a cart with stout springs, get on top, and next drive the cart transversely across a ploughed field, and then you will form some notion of the terror and uncertainty you would experience the first time you mounted a camel."

Mr. Amos Otis, of Yarmouth, Mass., ascribes the decrease in the market value of woodland in the four upper towns of Barnstable county to the fires which have occurred so frequently since 1842, and which have rendered that description of property unsafe as an investment. He estimates the depreciation of this account at three hundred and seventy five thousand dollars.

The other day, large rats attacked a brood of chickens in Barnesville, Ohio. The mother hen at once came to their rescue, and fought so gallantly that she killed the rat in a few moments. She managed to seize him with her claws, and holding him down, picked off his head until he gave up the ghost.

A French stock company which intends to start a new daily paper in Paris, offered Miss Glardin the sum of $500,000 francs if he would leave the Liberator and take the management of the new paper. The offer was declined. Glardin values his share of the Liberator at $1,000,000 francs.

It is understood that the Very Reverend E. V. Kleg D. D., M. President of the College of Holy Angels at Suspension Bridge, is to be the successor of Bishop J. F. Fenton, Bishop of Yale and Connecticut, and Administrator of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Detroit.

The representative in Philadelphia of Maryland is about to resign, and it is probable that Mr. Roebuck, notwithstanding his residence at Philadelphia, that his political days were over forever, will be a candidate. Another section of the constituency will request Mr. Miller Gibson to stand for the borough.

The line of Count Tilly, the celebrated opponent of Gustavus Adolphus, in the Thirty Years' War, has just become extinct by the decease of Count Charles Gustavus Edward Augustus von Tilly, at the age of 82. He had been Chamberlain to the King of England.

Col. Merrill, United States army, has reported to the Mayor of St. Louis against the dole at Grand Culin, six miles above the city, as calculated and obstruct rather than improve that harbor. The city has expended a million and a half on this work.
